“I hate the holidays. Everybody says it’s a time for family and friends, but I don’t have any family.”

- Jason, age 11

“I hope we can celebrate the holidays this year. Not like last year when no one wanted to because my sister died.”

- Alexandra, age 16

When a child reaches out, shouldn't someone answer?

During the holidays, more than ever, troubled kids need a place to call.

From now until December 25, Aliant will donate $1.00 from every Cellular and High-Speed Internet activation to Kids Help Phone.

As Canada's only toll-free, 24-hour, national telephone counselling, referral and Internet service for kids, Kids Help Phone is there for young people during the holiday season, and every day of the year.

When children reach out, Kids Help Phone is there for them with the immediate, caring, professional support they need.

In 2002 more than 41,600 calls were received from children and youth throughout Atlantic Canada, a 15% increase over the previous year. Calls came from more than 400 communities. From Yarmouth to Summerside, Miramichi to Goose Bay, Kids Help Phone helped children in your home town.

Kids Help Phone relies on corporate and individual donors and thousands of fundraising volunteers for the funds to maintain and improve its unique and crucial service. Thanks to Aliant, and you, they can continue to be there for kids.

For more information, contact the Kids Help Phone Atlantic regional office at 902-457-4779.

Help us keep kids connected.
